

THE CATALOGUE OF BIRDS INTRODUCED IN THE PATRIMONY OF THE MUSEUM OF OLTENIA CRAIOVA, BETWEEN 1999 AND 2009 (ROMANIA)

RIDICHE Mirela Sabina

Abstract. The paper presents the methodic catalogue of the birds introduced in the patrimony of the Museum of Oltenia during the last decade, mainly between 1999 and 2009. These birds belong to 87 species, 34 families, and 15 orders. Each item added to the collection and to the catalogue comes with references including the following sequence of information: place and date of collection, age and sex, the name of the collector, the way it was preserved and the inventory number. There are also specified the species that are Monuments of nature. Many of the species of the birds that are studied have an important faunistic and documentary – scientific value, being used as identification and preservation criteria of Nature 2000 and Areas of Special Avifaunistic Protection (SPA).

Keywords: catalogue, ornithological collection, patrimony, the Museum of Oltenia Craiova.

Rezumat. Catalogul păsărilor introduse în patrimoniul Muzeului Olteniei Craiova, în perioada 1999-2009 (România). Lucrarea prezintă catalogul sistematic al păsărilor introduse în patrimoniul Muzeului Olteniei pe parcursul ultimului deceniu, respectiv între anii 1999-2009; acestea aparțin la 87 de specii, 34 de familii și 15 ordine. Fiecare exemplar introdus în colecție, respectiv în catalog este însoțit de un aparat documentar, a cărei succesiune de date este următoarea: locul și data colectării, vârsta și sexul, numele colectorului, modul de preparare-conservare și numărul de inventar; sunt precizate de asemenea speciile care au statut de Monumente ale naturii. Multe din speciile păsărilor luate în studiu au o însemnată valoare faunistică și documentar-științifică, fiind folosite ca și criterii de identificare și conservare a siturilor Natura 2000, respectiv a Ariilor de Protecție Specială Avifaunistică (SPA).

Cuvinte cheie: catalog, colecția ornitologică, patrimoniu, Muzeul Olteniei Craiova.

INTRODUCTION

The ornithological collection of the Museum of Oltenia consists of has 1,774 items (1,739 birds – stuffed items, skins and trophies, 30 nests, 5 rings, belonging from a systematic point of view to 223 species, 56 families, 18 orders. For completing the mentioned ornithological patrimony it is added the eggs collection made up from 352 eggs (belonging to 160 species, 98 genera, 45 families, 15 orders), from which many items (312 pieces) belonged to I. P. Licherdopol, the rest of the items being collected by the specialists of the museum, during the field research.

The establishment, the enrichment, the diversification and the scientific development of these collections were a permanent concern of the specialists of the museum, starting with the first decades of the last century, from 1923, when the bases of the museal institution of Craiova were laid.

A significant importance is held by the items coming from donations, attainments, transfers and /or changes, beside the ones collected in the field, during the scientific research and the ones put at the disposal of the museum by the authorized hunters.

The first scientific information regarding the ornithological collection were published by BAZILESCU (1969, 1973) and BAZILESCU et al. (1980). Later, RIDICHE (1999, 2000, 2003, 2004, 2006) and PETRESCU & RIDICHE (2009), completes the data base regarding the ornithological material introduced in the patrimony of the Museum of Oltenia and emphasizes the documentary – scientific value of this.

The distinct scientific quality of the collection is given by the avifaunistic rarities (Platalea leucorodia, Anser erythropus, Falco peregrinus, Alectoris graeca, Tetrax tetrax, Burhinus oedicephalus, Himantopus himantopus, Pastor roseus etc.) collected and stuffed by the famous ornithologist Dionisie Linția, in the first half of the last century, but also by more recent specimens donated, purchased or/and prepared in the restoration laboratory of the Museum of Oltenia (Aegypius monachus, Aquila clanga, Haliaeetus albicilla, Otis tarda etc.). A number of 62 specimens belonging to 33 species are classified in thesaurus and fond categories of the national cultural patrimony of Romania.

MATERIAL AND METHODS

The studied ornithological material consists of bird specimens introduced in the patrimony of the Museum of Oltenia in the period 1999 – 2009, for whose identification we have consulted bird guides (BRUUN et al., 1999; PETERSON et al., 1989). For the classification system and the scientific and vernacular names of the species we have used as support The Nomenclator of the Birds from Romania (SZABÓ-SZELEY & BACZÓ, 2006).

Each specimen introduced in the catalogue comes together with a reference including the following sequence of information: place and date of collection, age and sex, the name of the collector, the way it was preserved and the inventory number. The species that are Nature Monuments are mentioned as such.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS

The birds introduced in the patrimony of the Museum of Oltenia between 1999 and 2009 belong to 87 species, divided into 34 families and 15 orders. Among these, 5 species (Egretta garzetta, E. alba, Platalea leucorodia, Tadorna tadorna, Tetrao urogallus) are included in the Red Book of vertebrates in Romania with a status of Monuments of nature (BOTNARIUC & TATOLE 2005), and 22 species (Phalacrocorax pygmeus, Ixobrychus minutus, Ardeola ralloides, Egretta garzetta, E. alba, Ciconia nigra, Platalea leucorodia, Anser albifrons, A. erythropus, Aythya nyroca, Mergus albellus, Pernis apivorus, Haliaeetus albicilla, Circus cyaneus, Buteo rufinus, Porzana parva, Recurvirostra avosetta, Strix uralensis, Asio flammeus, Coracias garrulus, Dendrocopos syriacus, Lanius collurio) are used as criteria of identification and preservation of the sites Nature 2000 and Special Protected Areas (SPA), according to the Bird Directive (Annex I).

CONCLUSIONS

This catalogue brings into notice the birds species introduced in the patrimony of the Museum of Oltenia during the last decade, between 1999 and 2009. They belong to 87 species, 34 families, and 15 orders. Each item is mentioned together with a reference including the following sequence of information: place and date of collecting, sex and age, the name of the collector, the way it was preserved, and the inventory number.

From the scientific research we have learnt that the studied ornithological material has an important faunal and documentary – scientific significant value, given by the species declared Monuments of nature (Egretta garzetta, E. alba, Platalea leucorodia, Tadorna tadorna, Tetrao urogallus), by the ones included in the annex I of Birds Directive, for which it is asserted the preservation of habitats and designation of Special Protected Areas (SPA).
